"I was never very athletic during elementary school. In the fifth grade, my mom figured that this could change if I joined field hockey, but I turned out to be the slowest girl on the team. This changed when I started playing competitively for the Field Hockey BC regionals. Although I started out as a benchwarmer, I slowly improved my skills and athleticism through hard work and diligence. I can proudly say that I made this year's regional team and easily passed the fitness tests. Through field hockey I have learned to never give up on my goals. Next Year I will be attending the University of Victoria to study Humanities."
