

Bert & Greta Quartermaine Badminton Scholarship Recipients

BC School Sports has selected six recipients for the Bert & Greta Quartermaine Badminton Scholarship. In addition to excellence in badminton, these candidates displayed a high level of academic achievement, as well as standout community and school leadership. Congratulations to these exceptional student-athletes! We wish them the best of luck as they embark on this next chapter of life. Thank you for your contributions to school sports.

Athletic Accolades: Badminton Most Improved Player, Volleyball MVP, 2x Volleyball Team Captain

Academic Accolades: Principle Honour Roll

Ella is a composed and dedicated leader on the court, making her a standout among her peers. She is a top-performer on her team and the person everybody looks toward to step-up in big moments. Ella also guides and inspires younger players as a volunteer coach. Her dedication and commitment to improvement in the face of difficult circumstances is exceptional. Ella is also part of her school's Sport Council, Grad Council, Student Council, and brings youth and seniors together through her Neighbourhood Small Grant program.

Academic Accolades: Principle's List

Joseph discovered badminton at a time when he was feeling lost in sport, but it allowed him to connect with new people and rediscover his love for athletics. Joseph is always eager to help others and prides himself on teamwork and sportsmanship. He is heavily involved at school, leading band and choir, acting as a retreat leader, and managing Link Crew. Joseph also spent his summer volunteering for the Opus Dei Environmental Project. Everyone who knows Joseph is impressed by his giving nature and commitment to excellence.

Athletic Accolades: 2x Lewis Reid Female Academic Athlete of the Year, Physical Excellence Award, Badminton Team Captain

Academic Accolades: University of Toronto Book Award, Basant Motors Community Pride Award, Outstanding School Service Award

Caryl is a student whose passion sets her apart from her peers. She advocated for her school's badminton team to get equal resources, creating a lasting change and building team culture. She has extensive volunteer experience at the Watershed Society, Future Science Leaders, and as a pharmacy assistant. She is also president of the school debate club. Caryl's attitude and strength of character enable her to handle any challenge thrown at her. Her kindness is rare, and her courage to stand up for what is right, admirable.

Athletic Accolades: Fraser Heights Gold Medal Athletic Award, Surrey Invitational Championships Senior Mixed Doubles and Boys Doubles First Place, Badminton Team Captain, 3x Ultimate Frisbee Team Captain

Academic Accolades: MiniEnterprise Speaker Award and First Place, AP Scholar Award, KPU Science Challenge

Eric is a special type of student who has built a strong legacy at his school, and leaves a lasting impression on everyone fortunate enough to collaborate with him. Eric is the first to step up when he sees someone's needs not being met. He used his analytical and innovative mindset to help develop communication bracelets for non-verbal students and distributed them to multiple schools in his district. He is someone his peers look to for guidance, as his confidence and capability are evident in everything he does. He is also a volunteer badminton coach, leads three school clubs, and has been successful in multiple business case competitions.
