Master of Education in Coaching Studies

Applications are invited for the Master of Education in Coaching Studies. The program focuses on the application of coaching science to your own practice.

This is a summer-based program and is largely course based. Twelve units of required courses are completed during July/August at the University of Victoria over two consecutive summers. There is no requirement to be on campus for any of the other program requirements.

For admission you need: coaching experience, an undergraduate degree, and a relevant academic background in exercise sciences (can be developed through coaching certificates e.g. National Coaching Institute Advanced Coaching Diploma or level 3 in National Coaching Certification Program).
